A Valuable Report

The focusing of public attention in Canada upon the problem of strengthening one national organization through increased industrial and financial efficiency, led naturally and briefly to the Seventh Annual Report of the Commission of Conservation, which has just been issued. The activities of this Commission, relating to the entire field of primary production, aim to secure greater efficiency in basic industry—in the development and utilization of Canada's natural resources.

The resume of the past year's work is notable primarily for the progress recorded in the constructive programme recommended upon by the newly formed Town Planning branch, with respect to one of our greatest and most urgent national problems, viz., the wise use and development of land, particularly in urban areas.
Town planning legislation of an advanced character has been secured in several provinces and thorough investigation of housing conditions has also been undertaken with a view to the drafting of model housing laws. Rapid progress has been achieved in the promotion of independent civic organization throughout the Dominion for the purpose of securing more general and thorough study of public questions.

A second noteworthy feature is the attention devoted by the Commission to the reduction of the heavy economic handicap imposed upon Canada through her enormous foreign debts. The Commission is engaged in a careful study of these causes, the extent and methods of removing this avoidable tax upon the country's resources.

The section of the report containing the results of an agricultural survey in four representative counties presents accurate and definite data regarding the deficiencies of Canada's chief industry and affords a valuable indication of the lines along which efforts to improve rural conditions, economic and social, should be directed.

Steady progress has been made by the Commission in the huge task of instilling stocks-taking, the urgent necessity for which is clearly demonstrated. The recent experience has served to emphasize the need for accurate knowledge of the nature and extent of the Dominion's wealth in lands, forests, minerals, water-powers, fisheries and wild life, as a guide-ance to intelligent and permanent national expansion.

The report, which is bound in cloth, and well illustrated, constitutes an important addition to the literature on Canada's resources and the problems connected with their efficient administration and development.

The annual report of the collections made during the past year by the Bellevue Red Cross Society and Patriotic Fund will show that the amount subscribed for all patriotic purposes by the people of Bellevue will be over $10 per capita, probably the record for this province.

If there is one enterprise on earth that a quitter should leave severely alone it is advertising. To make a success of advertising, one must be prepared to stick like a bircarole on a boat's bottom. He should know before he begins that he must spend money—lots of it. Somebody must tell him that he cannot hope to reap results commensurate with his expenditure early in the game. Advertising does not jerk; it pulls. It begins very gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day and year by year until it exerts irresistible power. —John Wanamaker.

Things That

The Baptist church was crowded to the doors on Sunday night last by people who were more interested in hearing the pastor discourse on the Third Commandment than in staying at home or elsewhere to bother about other people's business.

Alberta Man First
To Reach Courcelette

The first man to reach the village of Courcelette was Pte. James W. Min-chester, son of the Rev. W. H. Mincester, former chaplain at the Sarcee camp who came from this city a couple of years ago. He died while well known throughout southern Alberta, where he had served charges.

Capt. Muncaster has two sons at the front, and both have been giving splendid service to the Empire. Pte. James W. went out with the original 31st battalion, a year ago last May, and for being the first man to Courcelette he has been recommended for the Distinguished Conduct Medal. For this feat, too, he was given seven days' leave, of which he took advantage by going to London, where he was married, his soldier father performing the ceremony. Consequently for a long time he remained in that war-torn town. Capt. Muncaster has gained a wife and the D.G.M.

Lieut. Arthur D. Muncaster, the second son, was attached to the military transport, and while doing his "bit" in France he was wounded. After convalescing in England he transferred to the Royal Flying Corps, and he is serving with this unit at the present time.

to purchase records, etc.

June 30—Miss Bell is now assistant postmistress at Frank.

Work has been started on the sinking of a wharf on the Hallowsay property near Lundbreck.

A well attended dance was given in the dining-room of the bunkhouse at Lille on Tuesday evening.

F. Kenny and E. Larkins have about completed the foundation for the English church at Coleman.

Schion was dismissed for the present on Wednesday in the South Side school, owing to the illness of the teacher, Miss Boyle.

The lumbering baron of 100 coke ovens now being erected at Coleman, the International Coal & Coke Co., is well underway and will be in operation before the snow flies. These coke ovens will double the coke-making capacity of this company who are at present turning out about one hundred tons of coke per day and finding a ready market for all they can produce.

July 7—An attempt was made on Friday of last week, to burn out the depot at Coleman, but was frustrated by George Goss, the night operator, who pluckily grappled with the intruder and succeeded in landing him. The would-be robber, Harry Varnum, was handed over to the police and brought before Justice Disney who committed him to the Macleod jail to await trial.

Four years ago Henry Gibson opened for business the first wholesale liquor house in Frank.

July 14—The Alberta Telephone Co. is becoming daily more of a factor in the upbuilding of The Pas and the facilitating of business in the various towns' life. The company have strung a line to the new slaughter house at the Meat Market, added eight more lines to Frank and have a force of men at work putting in lines to both Belgrave and Lille.

Billy Montalbetti and Dick Slagg, two of Blairmore's picatorial experts made a good catch at the South Fork on Monday.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Baumer, near Lundbreck, on Saturday evening, June 30th, when the Rev. T. M. Murray, of Coleman, tied the knot that united for life their eldest daughter, Frances Baumer, to Dame McNeil, of Lille. The happy couple, after a short visit to Moyle have taken up their residence in Lille.

The building of a fine Catholic church here is now assured, a piece of land 300 by 400 feet having been secured from the coal company for that purpose.

where they will make their home, Mr. May having accepted a position with the C.P.R.A.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Montalbetti and children left Sunday for "Sunny Italy," Mr. Montalbetti's birthplace.

Dr. Riddell, of Alberta College, Ed蒙特利尔, paid The Pass a visit last Sunday, speaking in Coleman, Lille and Frank. His addresses were heartily enjoyed.

August 4—Last week George White was sent down for six months for disposing of a set of harness, the property of C. Harris, of Macleod.

Bishop Pinkham, of Calgary, will open the new English church at Coleman tomorrow.

John F. Wilson, who has been spending some months looking over the Cobalt mining country in Ontario, returned home on Tuesday. John has not a very high opinion of the mining situation there, but says the worst feature to be met there by a prospector is the lack of horse sense displayed by the Ontario officials in making up their mining laws.

August 11—Wednesday the members of our provincial legislature, who are visiting the province visited The Pass. With them were a number of guests, including the following: John Herzon, M.P. for the Alberta constituency; Senator Talbot of Lethbridge; Senator J. H. Ross, of Moose Jaw; Editor J. R. Cowell, of the Red Deer Advocate; Duncan Marshall, A. B. Watts, and A. Johnston, of Edmonton; W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge; W. M. Davidson, and J. J. Young, Calgary; C. S. Hotchkiss, Clarendon; Messrs. Walker, Buchanan, Holden, Telser, Puffer, Cowell, Hebert, Simmons, Finlay, Woolf, Talbot, McKenzie, Misses McIsaac, Lees and Cushing. But a few moments were spent in looking over the town, which, however, was pronounced by all, considering its size, as the most substantially built and prosperous-looking town they had yet visited.

Charles Chestnut, lately superintendent of the Hillcrest mines, expects to leave shortly for the Big Horn Basin, in Wyoming, to accept a position with S. W. Gobin, who is opening a coal property there.

August 18th—Complaint was laid Tuesday against the manager of the Bellevue hotel for selling liquor during prohibitory hours. A fine of $50 and costs was imposed.

Everybody Crow

Here is wisdom "wrap't in words" if you will—but wisdom still:

A Hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact, yet every time she lays an egg she cracks forth the fact.

A Rooster hasn't got a lot of intellect to show, but none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow.

The Mule, the most despised of beasts, has a persistent way of letting people know he's around by his insistent bray.

The Little Bay Bee, his buzz, bulls below and cows moe, and watchdogs bark, and ganders quack, and doves and pigeons coo.

The Peacock spreads his tail and even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting.

But Man, the greatest masterpiece that Nature could devise, will often stop and hesitate before he'll Advertise!

Running a business without advertising is like winking at your girl in the dark. You know what you are doing (probably), but no one else does.

"I went below and laid out my injured, thinking I had got some wounded, and placed my lint and bandages handy," says a surgeon whose ship was sunk in the battle of Jutland—in a recent issue of "Life." "I lay there all night, ever, very soon I was called up on deck, for we had no wounded, and all through the night I was watching from the little deck. You can think you're brave till you see men fighting. The commander stood on the bridge, smoking his pipe, a man beat him with a maul and cut him off his orders. His eyes were everywhere at once—above, around, below. The men sang 'Tipperary,' as they passed the gunners, and could hear the stokers singing 'Keep the Home Fires Burning' as they shovelled on the coal, below, when the fearful noise of the guns would let you hear nothing. After a time one ship was held, and heeled over."

About Heligoland
Germany's Naval Base—A Haven for Pursued War Vessels

In 1890, Heligoland was formally ceded to Germany in return for compensation made Britain in East Africa. This small island in the North Sea was taken from the Danes by the British in 1807 and made a British possession. It remained in the possession of Great Britain and then was ceded to Germany in 1890, since which time it has been strongly fortified and now is the base for the German navy.

Heligoland, situated 28 miles northeast of the mouth of the Elbe, consists of a steep, rocky plateau with a strip of firm sand at its southeast foot. The island is the old Frisian code. North Frisia is the name of the language and is still spoken.

The Frisians are Frisian, tall and muscular race of hardy men, simple and primitive in their habits of living and dress, and coarse in speech. The merchant class consists of immigrants from Hamburg and other places on the mainland, or their descendants.

During the last 20 years the shipping agencies have been at work which have reduced the area of the island by one-fourth.

Heligoland, which originally belonged to the goddess Hertha, and Christianity was first preached there by St. Willibord in the 7th century.

"Did you meet any nice men while you were away?"

"Yes, mother. Lots of them."

"Lots of them! There aren't that many in the whole world."—Detroit Free Press.

"Mrs. Bloom: Do you find it more economical to do your own cooking?"

"Mrs. Syme: Oh, yes; my husband doesn't eat half as much as he did!"

"Paw, what's the longest period of time you ever saw day to the next?"

"From one day to the next."

The Market Report

Weekly Grain Letter Supplied by Randall, Gee & Mitchell, Ltd., Winnipeg

There is one feature of the present wheat situation that is of the greatest importance, and that one that undoubtedly, is the cause for the persistent strength of the market at the high level. It is to be noted that since the inception of the advanced situation, there has grown steadily more bullish. This is a development out of the ordinary, as it is generally being discovered that after an agitation has subsided, and the early returns have come to be compared with the actual outcome that the scare exaggerated conditions. No one can say that that is the case with the present situation, as said that the run of news which affected crop production is still favorable to high prices. Whatever other influences have been entered into the calculations as influences that are based on the possibility of the world's supply of bread stuffs being augmented by the importation of soya beans through successive military operations of the Entente Powers.

The foundation of the present bull market was laid in the fact that the heavy wheat lost in the soft wheat states. At that time, the liberality of the world's carry over from the general 1915 harvest was drag down the price of the market response.

It was the statistical position of the wheat hunt heaviest on the market.

Importers had the utmost care to keep the wheat supplies

The report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture shows that there were 2,245,664 motor cars in the United States on December 31, 1915, as against 48,000 in 1903. When World War began, it was somewhat exaggerated, when compared with a compilation of license statistics of the various states, they are near enough to give a fairly accurate picture of the motor industry. The total gross motor vehicle registration and license revenues are given as $18,455,713, of which practical 90 per cent, or about 16,600,000, was registered in 1915.

With the use of automobiles

In asking for a representative from Blairmore council to attend the annual meeting of the Union of Alberta Municipalities in Edmonton, on November 8th and 9th, mention is made of the fact that municipalities are passing through an ordeal, the severity of which is not very likely to be repeated in future years, and never was co-operation and co-ordination needed so much as at present. Our financial problems continue to press us, and we need all the municipal wisdom there is in the province to help us solve them. The convention on the 8th and 9th of November is the only opportunity in the province of meeting men who are laboring under the same difficulties that beset us. By all means let us get together and by an exchange of ideas make it a memorable convention.
